

Bob Hayward

Bob was nominated eight years ago as an LOHP Board member by Redgrave Parish Council, of which he is a long-standing member. He is a Chartered Engineer and European Engineer. He brings a broad range of experience to LOHP both through his wide-ranging voluntary activities and his professional experience. As a volunteer, he has managed the creation and operation of the Redgrave Activities Centre which is a combined sports and village hall facility which has successfully run for 20 years. He is a founder and chairman of the Redgrave Church Heritage Trust charity which has added facilities to the redundant Grade I listed Redgrave Church so that it is now in regular use by the community for concerts and plays. His business experience started from an engineering apprenticeship followed by research and extended through all facets of business operations including 20 years in international management based in Brussels. That was followed by running his own international management consultancy.
