

Laura Cox

Laura has been a volunteer for about five years or so.

She's very good at falling in ditches and forwarding pictures of the various dead mammals that the cats bring in, to be identified! She's also good at picking up litter!

In her other life she's been an actor for over forty years, incorporating theatre, film and TV, and these days she's also a medical role player, specialising in psychiatric role play for Extreme Psychiatry at Kings College, London.
